WHAT IS FR TREATED?

FR treated vests are regular vests that have been chemically treated to protect against flames. It is NOT designed for use in ARC flash or flash fire applications.

When a flame source is removed from the treated material, the material will self extinguish within a given time frame. The treated material can melt and drip and has a limited life span dependant on washings and what the garment is exposed to.

How do we make waterproof fabric?
Waterproof fabrics consist of an outer layer called the "face fabric", usually made of nylon or polyester, and a laminated coating, made of ePTFE (expanded Polytetrafl oethylene, also known as Tefl) or PU (Polyurethane). The purpose of the face fabric is to protect and look stylish; it's not waterproof but is treated with a solution called DWR (Durable Water Repellent) so it doesn't soak up water. The job of keeping the water out is left to the membrane, which has tiny holes too small to let liquid water enter but large enough to allow water vapor to escape.
